

■ FRIENDS united at a Doncaster primary school to win a national book contest with a friendly theme. Children at Dunscroft's Sheep Dip Lane Primary School after-school club beat competition from 700 schools and clubs to impress the judges with their 'Friendship Book'. The pupils worked together to each make a page for the book as part of the competition aimed at promoting reading and creativity. Contributions included poems, stories, paintings and collages.